MAURICIO POCHETTINO

"WE HAVE ENJOYED A POSITIVE FEW WEEKS WITH THREE GOOD WINS. WE WERE RUTHLESS WITH OUR CHANCES IN THOSE GAMES AND I WAS PROUD OF OUR PHYSICAL AND MENTAL STRENGTH"

Hello and welcome back to Wembley.

Almost a month has passed since our last match here and in that time I'm pleased to say we have enjoyed a positive few weeks with three good wins, all of which provided very different challenges.

London derby games are never easy, which made the result at West Ham pleasing. The final score was closer than we might have liked, though there was no doubt we were the better team and controlled the majority of the game.

Following that, we travelled to APOEL in Cyprus and came away with another victory in the Champions League. No game in that competition is easy and we had to be sharp to keep our opponents at bay before grabbing our chances to kill the game. We have given ourselves six points to take to the Bernabeu next week and that was always our ambition.

We were ruthless with our chances in those games and that continued in our final match before the international break at Huddersfield. In a lively atmosphere like that, against a newly-promoted team, there is no room to be complacent and we were professional to kill the game as a contest inside the first half.

Those last two games came in the space four days with a lot of travelling, so I was proud of the physical and mental strength we showed as a squad.

Also, a thanks to you for your fantastic support in those games. We are under no illusion as to how much commitment and dedication is required to follow us, especially during busy weeks such as that, and we are truly grateful.

Those three games saw Harry Kane continue his excellent form with seven goals. I was proud for him to be recognised with a nomination for the Ballon D'Or this week and to win the Premier League Player of the Month Award for September.

There were some other milestones reached for our players during the international break that I would like to mention.

A congratulations to our other Harry, as Winksy won his first senior cap for England and we hope it is the first of many.

Then Jan Vertonghen became Belgium's highest-ever capped player with 97 appearances for his national team. Jan can be extremely proud and deserves all the plaudits for breaking the record.

A well done also to all our players who qualified or took a step closer to next summer's World Cup.

The international break meant that some of our injured players were able to continue to work on their recovery and having them back with us in the weeks ahead will be another massive positive for us.

Finally, I would like to welcome this afternoon's opponents Bournemouth and their manager Eddie Howe. They are a dangerous side and will be looking to kick-start their season so we will need to play to our best again if we are to win the game.

We are entering another busy spell of games and we want to keep up our momentum before the international break.

Enjoy the game.

SPURS AT THE WORLD CUP

We will already be well represented at next summer's World Cup finals in Russia – with two more players determined to add to our contingent next month.

Hugo Lloris, Moussa Sissoko and Davinson Sanchez were all part of celebrations as France and Colombia qualified directly for the finals on Tuesday night.

They join South Korea (Heung-Min Son), England (potentially six Spurs players), Belgium (Toby Alderweireld, Mousa Dembele, Jan Vertonghen) and Argentina (potentially Erik Lamela and Juan Foyth).

The full list of 22 countries to have qualified so far is Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Colombia, Costa Rica, England, Egypt, France, Germany, Iceland, Iran, Japan, Mexico, Nigeria, Panama, Poland, Portugal, Saudi Arabia, Serbia, South Korea, Spain and Uruguay.

Christian Eriksen and Serge Aurier will aim to join the party next month.

Christian's outstanding form inspired Denmark to reach the play-offs and they join Croatia, Greece, Italy, Northern Ireland, Republic of Ireland, Sweden and Switzerland in the draw on Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Serge and the Ivory Coast face a make-or-break qualifying match against Morocco on November 11. As it stands, with one match remaining, Morocco top Group C by a point from Ivory Coast.

HUGO BREAKS THE RECORD

Hugo Lloris has set a new club best for clean sheets in the Premier League era.

The goalkeeper and skipper kept clean sheet number 63 for us in the top flight in our 4-0 win against Huddersfield Town last month.

That was his fourth clean sheet already this season and took him beyond Ian Walker's 62, set between the first season of the Premier League in 1992-93 and 2001.

'Walks' came through the youth ranks to make 313 appearances between his debut against Norwich in April, 1991, and his final match against West Ham United in January, 2001.

French captain Hugo joined us from Lyon in August, 2012. He passed the 200-appearance mark for us last season and has now played 220 times for us in all competitions.

His most recent clean sheet stretched his current run to 13 in his last 24 in the Premier League and nine in his last 16.

HARRY'S GOALS...THE STATS SO FAR

Harry Kane's double at Huddersfield Town recently took him level with Glenn Hoddle in the club's all-time goalscoring list.

The pair are now locked on 110 goals and 13th equal overall in our list of top scorers. Harry is 12 goals short of the top 10 and Robbie Keane, who netted 122 times during his spells with us. The legendary Jimmy Greaves leads the way with 266 goals in 379 appearances.

Harry is also up to third on our all-time European goalscoring list with 17 goals in Europe after his hat-trick against APOEL in the Champions League. That was his fifth goal this season alone on the European stage and he is now just six short of Jermain Defoe, who scored 23 times for us in Europe. Martin Chivers sits second on the list with 22.

Meanwhile, Harry became only the second Spur to score two hat-tricks for us in European competition with his treble against APOEL. His first hat-trick in Europe was also his first for the club against Asteras Tripoli in October, 2014. That was an eventful game – Erik Lamela scored his famous 'rabona' goal and Harry ended up in goal when Hugo Lloris was sent off!

Chivers is the only other player to score two trebles in Europe, bagging matchballs against Keflavik (1971) and Lynn Oslo (1972).

Finally, following his fine form over the course of 2017, Harry has been named on the shortlist for the prestigious Ballon d'Or award.

Recognising the best player in the world, the award has been presented by France Football annually since 1956. It has been won by either Barcelona's Lionel Messi or Real Madrid's Cristiano Ronaldo every year since 2008.

Nat Solomon

All at the Club were saddened to learn of the recent passing of Nat Solomon.

It was during a period of financial turbulence at White Hart Lane during the early Nineties that led to the then Midland Bank taking on the financial running of the Club in the short term and appointing Nat Solomon to take up the role of Plc Chairman in January of 1991.

It was a job of love for Nat who, as a Spurs supporter all his life, ensured through his stewardship that the Club was kept in good shape before the majority share-holding was taken over by Alan Sugar in June of that year.

Nat subsequently became Tottenham Hotspur's Vice-President and continued to be a regular in the Boardroom and Directors Box through the next 25 years until ill health prohibited his attendance last season.

We extend condolences to the Solomon family at this sad time.

SUMMER AT THE SEASIDE

Andy Greeves tells a story from our vast history that has a link to our matchday opponents. This afternoon, we look back at the numerous friendly matches we have played away to AFC Bournemouth over the years.

AFC Bournemouth are one of English football's great success stories of the current decade. As recently as 2009-10, the Cherries were playing in League Two but there followed a period of three promotions in five years that saw Eddie Howe's team reach the Premier League in 2015. In doing so, the Dorset club ended their 116-year run without playing in the top-flight, having been formed back in 1899.

Our first meetings with the club, then known as Bournemouth and Boscombe Athletic FC, came during World War II. We enjoyed a 4-1 victory over the Cherries in the Football League War Cup first round, first leg at White Hart Lane on February 15, 1941, thanks to goals from Vic Buckingham, Billy Sperrin and brace from George Ludford. Seven days later, we secured a 6-1 away victory in the second leg, with Jackie Gibbons getting a hat-trick while Ivor Broadis scored twice and Ralph Ward converted a penalty.

We were the victims of a major FA Cup upset on February 16, 1957, when the Cherries – plying their trade in the old Third Division South at the time – beat us 3-1 in a FA Cup tie. In front of a crowd of 25,892 at Dean Court, Oliver Norris, Stan Newsham and Nelson Stiffle scored for the home side while Terry Medwin got our consolation. Bournemouth's achievement of knocking a top-flight team out of the FA Cup was made even more significant by the fact that we went on to finish as runners-up to Manchester United in the Division One table that season.

After that FA Cup clash, it was some 43 years before we again met the Cherries – who became known as AFC Bournemouth in 1972 – in a competitive fixture. In between times, there were no shortage of friendly encounters against them, as the seaside town became a popular destination for us for both post and pre-season matches.

On July 29, 1972, our UEFA Cup-winning side beat the Cherries 4-2 in front of a crowd of 13,050 at Dean Court. Joe Kinnear, Steve Perryman, Martin Peters (penalty) and Jimmy Pearce were our goal scorers while Phil Boyer and Jimmy Gabriel netted for Bournemouth. The home side included a certain Harry Redknapp in their starting line-up, who would of course go on to manage both the Cherries and Spurs with great distinction.

Two days after our final Division One fixture of the 1979-80 season against Bristol City, we visited AFC Bournemouth for a testimonial match for their long-serving midfielder Keith Miller. Manager Keith Burkinshaw named a strong starting line-up for the game, which included Chris Hughton, Steve Perryman, Micky Hazard, Glenn Hoddle and Tony Galvin. Terry Gibson scored both our goals in a 2-1 victory that evening.

We made two further visits to Dean Court during the 1980s for pre-season friendly matches. On July 27, 1985, Paul Miller, Mark Falco and Galvin were all on target in our 3-0 win at Bournemouth. A crowd of 6,189 witnessed a highly entertaining match between the two sides on July 25, 1987, that finished in a 4-4 draw. Clive Allen continued his incredible form from the previous season – that had seen him score 49 goals in all competitions – with a brace against the Cherries. Chris Waddle and Steve Hodge also netted.

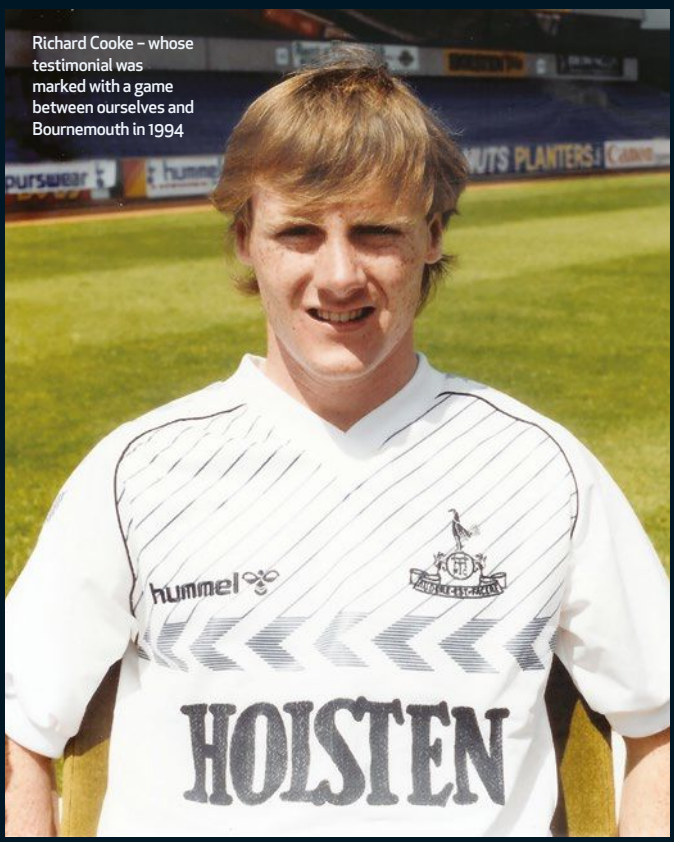
RETURN OF THE EX

AFC Bournemouth have three of our former players in their Premier League squad. Jermain Defoe needs little introduction, as the fifth-highest goal scorer in our history. The England striker netted 159 times in 378 appearances in two spells with us from 2004-08 and 2009-14. Defoe, who is also our top scorer in European competition with 23 goals in 35 continental matches, returned to the south coast club in the summer having previous spent the 2000-01 campaign with them on loan from West Ham United.

Adam Smith made his Premier League debut for us as a substitute at home to Fulham on May 13, 2012 – a season after he had been loaned to AFC Bournemouth and played 38 league matches for the Cherries. He departed White Hart Lane in 2014 to sign for Eddie Howe's team on a permanent basis, having played two competitive matches for us overall.

Charlie Daniels was on our books as a youngster between 2005 and 2009 but never made a competitive, first-team appearance for us. After spells with Chesterfield (loan), Leyton Orient and Gillingham (loan), the Harlow-born defender signed for AFC Bournemouth in 2011, with his loan move there becoming permanent in 2012. He has since played nearly 200 matches for the club in all competitions.



Richard Cooke – whose testimonial was marked with a game between ourselves and Bournemouth in 1994

The career of our former winger Richard Cooke was marked with a testimonial match at Dean Court on July 22, 1994. Cooke – who made 17 appearances and scored twice for us between 1983-86 – spent two spells with Bournemouth between 1987 and 1993, playing 125 league games for them and netting 17 times.

Danny Hill, David Howells, Colin Calderwood, Nick Barmby and Darren Caskey were all on target in our 5-0 win, watched by a crowd of 5,126, with Darren Anderton playing for us against the club he would go on to join in 2006.

Sergei Rebrov got the only goal of the game in our 1-0 success at AFC Bournemouth on July 25, 2002, which saw our recent signing Jamie Redknapp start against his former side.

Skipper Robbie Keane was among our scorers in a 3-0 victory over the Cherries at Dean Court on July 17, 2009, meanwhile, along with Wilson Palacios and current Bournemouth striker Jermain Defoe.

Roman Pavlyuchenko bagged a brace as we won 4-0 at AFC Bournemouth the following year on July 20. Both Steven Caulker and Calum Butcher made their first appearances in the warm-up fixture ahead of the 2010-11 season.

We wore a one-off kit design that afternoon, as we awaited the delivery of our new design strip for the upcoming campaign. Jonathan Obika gave us the lead in the match, while substitute Danny Rose scored in between Pavlyuchenko's first and second goal of the day.

On October 25, 2015, we met AFC Bournemouth in a league match for the first time as we won 5-1 at the Vitality Stadium. With the Cherries now in their third consecutive season in the top flight, our visits to the Dorset club have taken on a far greater importance than they once had.

Football has a habit of knocking a player when it seems things are going so well – just ask Ben Davies.

Our Welsh defender has been in fantastic form so far this season, his energetic and enterprising performances down our left flank enhancing both our defensive stability and attacking prowess over the last few months.

He's added assists and goals to his game this term and is playing the game with a confidence which only comes from being on top form.

But sport is never that straight-forward and on Tuesday evening, Ben's positivity was dealt a real blow when his Wales team were thwarted in their attempts to qualify for next summer's World Cup in Russia.

Needing a win against the Republic of Ireland to guarantee at least a play-off spot for the tournament, the Welsh were undone by a James McClean goal to leave their hopes in tatters.

The highs and lows of football right there, within a matter of weeks.

However, in his typically professional manner, Ben knows that he cannot dwell on this huge disappointment as his focus returns to Spurs and the challenges we face on three fronts during the next few weeks.

"That Wales result is slowly sinking in, but I can't let it affect me now," said the 24-year-old, who won his 34th cap in midweek. "Of course it wasn't an ideal night and not a great performance from us in the end, but it's happened.

"I have to forget about that result though, and I'm already back in the mindset of club football. For me now, it will be about rebuilding with the national team but with the priority of playing well for Spurs.

"As a nation, we've done really well over the last couple of years and being so disappointed at not qualifying for a World Cup shows just how far we have come.

"We put ourselves in such a good position to potentially qualify but, in the end, it wasn't to be. Sometimes that's how it goes in football. No player in the world is going to have constant highs, you're always going to get lows along the way, but it's about learning from them and making sure those disappointments are few and far between."

"NO PLAYER IN THE WORLD IS GOING TO HAVE CONSTANT HIGHS, YOU'RE GOING TO GET LOWS ALONG THE WAY, BUT IT'S ABOUT LEARNING FROM THEM AND MAKING SURE THOSE DISAPPOINTMENTS ARE FEW AND FAR BETWEEN"

With club football back on the agenda, Ben is hoping to go some way to immediately easing the pain of Tuesday's result with victory over Bournemouth at Wembley this afternoon.

It hasn't been the happiest of venues for us in terms of Premier League games so far this term, but Davies believes our performances here have been good, even if results haven't followed, and that a big statement win is just around the corner.

"I think we've made a decent start to the season, obviously it's not been ideal in every game, but we've got a good base on which to kick on from," he added.

"Until we get some good wins here, we're always going to get people talking about us playing at Wembley. That's always going to be the case until we change it ourselves and I'm confident we will do that very soon.

"Bournemouth haven't started the season quite as well as people maybe expected them to but they're going to be a tough side to play against. They've got a lot of good quality attacking players and I'm sure we're in for a difficult afternoon, but we're going into the game confident after our last few results and hopefully we can pick up the three points today."

Part of the reason for that run of recent results – which include six wins from our seven matches during September and convincing victories against Huddersfield Town, APOEL, Borussia Dortmund and Everton – has been Ben's impressive form.

AIA

Goals against Huddersfield and Newcastle United together with assists in the latter match and in the 3-0 defeat of Everton have certainly caught the eye, but it's his marauding runs up and down the pitch in the wing-back position that help the team so much.

The role demands attributes and qualities which Ben has had to bring into his game, but he's delighted to be able to add yet more strings to his already impressive bow. With former club Swansea, he was primarily a defensive left-back without too much licence to break forwards, while he has often played as a left-sided centre-half in a back three while on duty with Wales, so it's fair to say he is well-versed in the different requirements.

And, of course, being able to play all three positions makes him such a versatile and valuable member of Mauricio Pochettino's squad.

"While each of the three roles are similar in terms of positions on the pitch, the responsibilities for each one change massively and that's something I have to adapt to depending on where I'm playing," explained Ben.

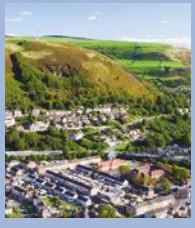
"But I like that, I like being able to play in the different positions and having the versatility that teaches you about the roles as well.

"For example, I completely understand

CAREER SO FAR

FIRST STEPS

Born in Neath, Ben took his first footballing steps with his local professional side Swansea City, learning his trade in their youth teams up until the age of nine.



DANISH ADVENTURE

His family moved to the Danish city of Viborg in 2002 and, after a successful trial, Ben joined the youth ranks of local team Viborg FF, enjoying two years there in what he describes as a 'really good experience'.

TURNING PRO

Returned to south Wales and rejoined the Swans, becoming a full-time scholar in their Academy in 2009, turning professional in 2011. Made his debut in August, 2012, in a 3-0 win against West Ham United.

"IT'S BEEN NICE TO BE INVOLVED IN GAMES BY SCORING GOALS AND CHIPPING IN WITH A COUPLE OF ASSISTS, BUT FROM A DEFENSIVE POINT OF VIEW I THINK WE'VE DONE WELL ALL ROUND"

what Jan has to go through when he plays next to me in a back five, if we play that way. I know where he needs to be, what he needs to do and what my role is in connection with him, so it's good to have that understanding of other players' roles within a team.

"It helps me to be flexible with my position too, but I just want to play as many games as possible and whatever role the manager has for me, I just try to adapt and be the best I can for the team.

"I've obviously enjoyed the season so far, it's been nice to be involved in games by scoring goals and chipping in with a couple of assists, but from a defensive point of view I think we've done well all round. I'm a defender first and foremost and keeping clean sheets is always the priority."

TROPHY SUCCESS

After establishing himself as a regular at Swansea, he helped them win the Capital One Cup, starting the final against Bradford City here at Wembley as they won 5-0 – the first medal of his career.

LONDON BOUND

After 85 appearances for Swansea, he moved to Spurs in July, 2014, and has become an integral part of Mauricio Pochettino's squad. Capped 34 times by Wales, including appearances at Euro 2016.

JAN VERTONGHEN'S NEW BELGIAN RECORD

Tuesday night marked a special occasion in Brussels as defender Jan Vertonghen broke the all-time appearance record for Belgium when he led his nation out against Cyprus.

Having won his first cap as a 20-year-old against Portugal a decade ago, Jan, now 30, turned out for a record 97th time as the Red Devils rounded off their World Cup qualifying campaign with a convincing 4-0 victory.

With Belgium long since qualified for Russia next summer, the night largely belonged to Jan, who received a framed commemorative 'Vertonghen 97' shirt from previous record-holder Jan Ceulemans prior to kick-off.

Today's panel comprises three Belgians with Spurs connections – past, present and future – as we discuss their compatriot's historic achievement...

What are your thoughts on Jan breaking the Belgian caps record this week?

MOUSA: "It's an unbelievable thing and he deserves it because every match he's played, he's always been really at the top of his game – every time he's been on the pitch he has played well. I am proud of him and if you speak with him, he is very proud of it too because all the times he's played for Belgium, I can't remember him having a bad game. He is always very motivated to play for his country so he deserves the record, 100 per cent."

NICO: "First of all I will say 'congratulations' because it's really something special. Jan Ceulemans was the record-holder but the difference is that they play more games now with the European Championship and the World Cup. I played alongside Ceulemans for Belgium – I was the player who always played up front, he was the second man who supported me – and he had a good physical quality. He was big, tall and although he was not so much of a technical player, he would always support the front man. It took him a long time to reach 96 games for the national team in those days because when we played, it was three, four, maybe five games in a year, but now they play a lot more tournament qualifiers. That said, Vertonghen has done very well. He hasn't had so many problems with injuries and he's played all the games at a good level."

JONATHAN: "It's always good to have a big player like this from your country and your club. It's obviously a fantastic thing for him to break the record and he deserves it a lot. I would say he is an example for all of us with his mentality and how he is on and off the pitch. As a player he's getting better and better with years. Even though he is getting older, he is still at his best level. I'm very happy for him and I wish him a lot of good things for the future."

How do you think Jan has managed to remain so consistent over such a long period?

MOUSA: "If you look at him when he arrived at Spurs (August, 2012) he was doing well, but if you compare it to now, obviously he's played a lot of games in the Premier League and this translates to playing in the national team as well. People talk about players with an even bigger name in the national team, but he is one of them. He is one of the pillars that can't fall down."

NICO: "He's a player who can concentrate throughout the game. He's always putting his body on the line for his team and he shows everybody after a while that they need him. When he's not there, you really feel the difference. In the national team he's often played at left-back as well, and although he's not the quickest, he still does his job. Positionally, he's a good defender and after the time he spent at Ajax where he played a lot with Toby Alderweireld, you can see now that he feels comfortable when he plays next to Alderweireld, for Belgium and for Spurs."

JONATHAN: "I think, as a goalkeeper, if I was behind him in a match I would have a lot of trust in him because you always know what he's going to do and you know he won't make those little mistakes. He's a great defender and he's very consistent. All the time he is playing at his top level and that is the best way to help the team and to improve too. He is very well-respected – one of the most respected players in the country."

What about Jan's other characteristics away from the action?

NICO: "He's a man who is always relaxed. He doesn't make a lot of trouble for anybody and the way he talks, he is not an animated speaker, he is just normal, like everybody has to be. He is not someone who speaks out too much but on the pitch he does his job and everybody knows that."

MOUSA: "Jan sets the example, not only for the Belgium squad now but for the future as well. A player like this, with his mentality and how he plays – for him to break the record, it's an example for everyone. We're all proud of him."

REMEMBER WHEN...

…we first faced Bournemouth for league points on our home patch? That came just two seasons ago, when the Cherries arrived at the Lane in March, 2016, having won promotion to the top flight the previous term for the first time in their history. We'd won the away game on the south coast 5-1 thanks in part to a Harry Kane hat-trick, although Matt Ritchie had given Bournemouth a first-minute lead at the Vitality Stadium. In N17 though, it was Kane who opened the scoring after 60 seconds to give us a dream start and he added another 15 minutes later. The points were secured in the 52nd-minute when Christian Eriksen scored a third and it ended 3-0.

ON THIS DAY
October 14

CHARLTON ATHLETIC 1-3 SPURS

With just two wins from our opening seven Division One games, we travelled to Selhurst Park on this day in 1989 looking for a change in fortunes. Having scored a hat-trick in our previous league game – a 3-2 home defeat of QPR – Gary Lineker was on target again along with Paul Gascoigne and Mitchell Thomas, the latter netting his only goal of the season. Paul Williams scored for Charlton.

COVENTRY CITY 2-3 SPURS

It had been 17 years since our previous visit to Highfield Road when we faced Coventry City for Division One points 50 years ago today. With seven league goals already to his name by this stage, Jimmy Greaves scored a brace against the Sky Blues while Cliff Jones was also on target in front of 38,008 fans.

SPURS 2-0 MANCHESTER CITY

Having not lost until our 17th match of the 1960-61 campaign, we'd already been beaten three times when Manchester City arrived at White Hart Lane on this day the following season. But we wrapped up the points on this occasion thanks to goals from Terry Medwin and John White.

AFC BOURNEMOUTH

CLUB INFO:

Founded:
1899 (As Boscombe FC)
Ground:
Vitality Stadium
Capacity: 11,360
League position 2016–17: 9th
Highest top-flight position:
9th, 2016-17

MANAGER:

EDDIE HOWE

To have led AFC Bournemouth from League Two in 2009 to the Premier League in 2015 was some achievement and to have preserved the Cherries' top-flight status for a third consecutive campaign is further testament to the job Howe has done on the south coast. The 39-year-old, who had a 20-month spell with Burnley between 2011 and 2012, is now be aiming to guide Bournemouth to a first ever Wembley win today.

FORM GUIDE:

AFC Bournemouth have only visited Wembley once before – losing the 1998 Football League Trophy Final to Grimsby Town 2-1 after extra-time with Eddie Howe in the Cherries' side – and they arrive here sitting 19th in the Premier League after winning just one of their opening seven games. Beaten in both of their league visits to White Hart Lane, Howe will be hoping for better at Wembley although none of his current squad have scored for Bournemouth against Spurs.

POSITION: GOALKEEPER
DATE OF BIRTH: 20.02.80
Boruc made a name for himself with Celtic between 2005 and 2010, appearing over 200 times for the Hoops and winning three SPL titles and a Scottish Cup before moving on Fiorentina and then Southampton. After spending 2014/15 on loan at Bournemouth he joined the Cherries on a permanent basis and was Howe's number one until the arrival of Begovic.

27

ASMIR BEGOVIC

POSITION: GOALKEEPER
DATE OF BIRTH: 20.06.87
Bosnian international Begovic moved to the Vitality Stadium during the summer following a two-season stint with Chelsea as back-up goalkeeper to Thibaut Courtois. He'd previously spent over five years with Stoke City where he made 173 appearances and scored once, ironically against his new team-mate Artur Boruc, having initially started his Premier League career with Portsmouth.

SIMON FRANCIS

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 16.02.85
Now in his seventh season as a Bournemouth player, Francis had previously played for Bradford City, Sheffield United, Grimsby Town (loan), Tranmere Rovers (loan), Southend United and Charlton Athletic before moving to the south coast in 2011. Part of the Cherries team that worked their way up from League One to Premier League, he was appointed club captain in 2016.

SHORT AND SWEET?

Eddie Howe's Bournemouth side have a reputation for playing a passing game and the statistics seem to back that up. The Cherries have recorded an average of 417 short passes per game in the Premier League this season (84% of their total passes), compared to just 61 long balls and 19 crosses.

STEVE COOK

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 19.04.91
Cook was one of only three players to play in every single minute of the Premier League in 2016/17 and also topped the statistics for the most clearances and headed clearances in the top-flight. It earned the former Brighton defender the Bournemouth Echo's Micky Cave Player of the Season award while he also won the club's Goal of a Season for a strike against Liverpool.

NATHAN AKE

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 18.02.95
Eddie Howe paid Chelsea a club-record transfer fee of £20m to secure the signing of Ake on a permanent basis during the summer after the Dutch international defender enjoyed a successful half-season on loan at the Vitality Stadium in 2016/17. Ake had joined Chelsea aged 16, having previously been with Feyenoord, and also had loan spells with Reading and Watford.

14

BRAD SMITH

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 09.04.94
Australian international Smith – who started in both legs of the Socceroos' World Cup Qualifier against Syria during the international break – is in his second season at the Vitality Stadium having arrived from Liverpool. The left-back represented England at the 2011 Under-17 World Cup but has played for the Aussies since 2014.

11

CHARLIE DANIELS

POSITION: DEFENDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 07.09.86
Walthamstow-born Daniels was developed at the Tottenham Academy and signed a professional contract in 2005 before moving on to Leyton Orient in 2009 after spending time on loan at Brisbane Road. He was subsequently loaned out to Bournemouth and did enough to earn a permanent move to Dean Court in 2012. He's been a regular since, netting 15 times in almost 200 appearances.

DATE OF BIRTH: 29.04.91
Like Charlie Daniels, Smith came through the Spurs youth system, making first-team appearances against Fulham and Carlisle United in 2012, but also spent a lot of time away on loan, including with Bournemouth in 2010/11. The right-back eventually joined the Cherries on a full-time basis in January 2014 and will be extending his stay after signing a new four-year contract in the summer.

4 DAN GOSLING

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 01.02.90
Everton signed Gosling from Plymouth Argyle, where he made his debut aged 16, in 2008 and he played in the 2009 FA Cup final before signing for Newcastle United in 2010. Injuries restricted his game-time at St James' Park and a 2014 move to Bournemouth followed. A former England Under-21 international, he's closing in on a century of games for the Cherries.

7 MARC PUGH

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 02.04.87
Fast approaching the 300-game mark for Bournemouth, this is the Lancashire-born midfielder's eighth season in a red-and-black shirt following a move from Hereford United in 2010. Pugh has scored in all eight campaigns – his Carabao Cup goal against Birmingham City in August taking his overall tally to 55 – and has netted in each of the top five divisions in English football.

6 ANDREW SURMAN

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 20.08.86
Another member of the Bournemouth squad who first arrived at the club on loan, from Southampton in 2005/06 and then from Norwich City in 2013/14, Surman played over 100 times for Saints ahead of a transfer to the Canaries in 2010. He signed for Eddie Howe on a permanent basis in 2014 and netted his first Cherries Premier League goal against Brighton last month.

16

LEWIS COOK

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 03.02.97
Cook was just 17 when handed his Leeds United debut in 2014 and quickly established himself as a first-team regular at Elland Road, clocking up 85 appearances before Bournemouth moved for him last summer. Injuries restricted Cook to just six Premier League games in 2016/17, but he returned to Howe's starting XI against Leicester City last time out.

HARRY ARTER

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 28.12.89
After being released by Charlton Athletic in 2007, Arter had unsuccessful trials with Gillingham and Ipswich Town so spent a year with Conference South side Woking Town where his displays caught the attention of Bournemouth. He moved to Dean Court in 2010 and has become a pivotal performer in the Cherries' midfield, earning international recognition with the Republic of Ireland.

JUNIOR STANISLAS

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 26.11.89
Kidbrooke-born Stanislas began his career with West Ham United, appearing almost 50 times for the Hammers before signing for Burnley – then managed by Eddie Howe – in August 2011. He spent three seasons at Turf Moor before Howe, who returned to Bournemouth in 2012, signed the midfielder again in 2014 with his seven league goals in 2016/17 being the best return of his career.

KING JOSHUA

Norwegian striker Joshua King is Bournemouth's highest Premier League scorer of all-time, with 25 goals. The former Manchester United man enjoyed a prolific spell in 2016-17, notching 16 league goals in total, after scoring just six during the previous campaign. He has one so far this term.

24 RYAN FRASER

POSITION: WINGER
DATE OF BIRTH: 24.02.94
Ruled out of Scotland's crucial World Cup qualifier against Slovenia last Sunday with a hamstring injury, Fraser has blossomed over the last 10 months after playing a starring role in an epic 4-3 victory against Liverpool in December. A product of Aberdeen's Academy, Fraser spent 2015/16 on loan at Ipswich Town and made his Scottish international debut in March 2017.

33 JORDON IBE

POSITION: WINGER
DATE OF BIRTH: 08.12.95
Recently named as Bournemouth Player of the Month for September, former Liverpool winger Ibe has made an impressive start to his second season at the Vitality Stadium, notably when he came off the bench against Brighton and created both goals to help turn a 1-0 deficit into a 2-1 win. A former club record signing, Ibe is still looking for his first goal in a red-and-black shirt.

Unable to make the breakthrough at Arsenal despite scoring a lot of goals at youth team level, Afobe moved on to Wolves in 2015 after being loaned out by the Gunners to six different clubs. The Londoner's 23 goals in 48 games at Molineux persuaded Bournemouth to sign him in January 2016 and the DR Congo international has so far netted 10 goals for the Cherries.

With 23 goals to his name, Defoe remains Tottenham's all-time leading goalscorer in European competition, although Harry Kane's current tally of 17 means his record will soon be under threat. Now in his second spell at Bournemouth, having spent 2000/01 on loan at Dean Court before joining Spurs, Defoe is also the fifth highest scorer in THFC history with 143 goals.

TEAMING UP WITH NANDO'S ON EMPLOYMENT PROGRAMME

Tottenham Hotspur Foundation has joined forces with Nando's to pilot a recruitment programme designed to help local people find jobs with local employers.

Over 50 unemployed young people attended the training day at Nando's in Walthamstow where the Foundation and senior managers from the restaurant chain delivered a number of activities to help make participants more job-ready.

Young people were given an opportunity to see first-hand what it takes to work in a busy Nando's restaurant, the type of job roles available and the qualities needed to secure them.

By splitting into groups, the participants completed question and answer sessions with Nando's management and were given the chance to carry out practical tasks to test their skills, such as customer service role play.

The Foundation's Employment team used its Assets For Success initiative as a core part of the training day to help young people develop their personal qualities and maximise their potential in the workplace. Participants were asked to give themselves a score for completing a range of activities, which enabled them to see what assets they already have and any areas for improvement.

At the end of the training, all those interested in applying for a job at Nando's were invited to do so. Two of the young people have already secured employment with the Walthamstow restaurant and a number of applicants asked to return for a trial shift.

Omar, a participant on the day, said: "Attending the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation and Nando's recruitment day was one of the best decisions I have made. I have learnt so much about assets and being confident in interviews."

Nikki Kelly, Acting Chief Executive Officer at Tottenham Hotspur Foundation, said: "We were thrilled to see so many young people turn up for the training day, using our network to connect employers with local unemployed people who are ready to work.

"The majority of participants had little or no work experience so it was an invaluable exercise for them.

"The pilot was a huge success with a number of young people securing trial shifts at Nando's restaurants across North London and multiple interviews already set up. On behalf of everyone at the Foundation, we'd like to thank Nando's Walthamstow for their support"

FOUNDATION HELPING HARINGEY RESIDENTS TO QUIT SMOKING

Tottenham Hotspur Foundation is supporting Haringey residents to give up smoking through its free Stop Smoking Service, as part of the Club's commitment to improving the health and wellbeing of residents in the local community.

Since the Foundation launched its Stop Smoking Clinic in May last year, 225 local residents have been helped through the programme, with 200 setting a quit date, 60 quitting for at least 28 days and 35 per cent going on to stay smoke free after 12 weeks.

The 'Spurs Nurse' – a qualified NHS health practitioner employed by the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation - delivers the Stop Smoking Clinic at two community venues in Haringey targeting tobacco or cigarette smokers aged 18 or over living in the borough.

Over the course of 12 weeks, participants are provided with advice and support from the Spurs Nurse who assists each individual in making a tailor-made plan to help them quit smoking for good.

Peter, from Tottenham, had been diagnosed with diabetes and was a heavy smoker before visiting the Stop Smoking Clinic. He said: "If it wasn't for the Spurs Nurse getting me to stop smoking, I'd have lost my leg."

Ida Blake, our Spurs Nurse, said: "One of the hardest things to stop smoking is actually taking the first step to make a plan and set a quit date. With the right support, it is possible.

"I'd urge anyone who wants to stop smoking but is struggling to do so, to visit our Stop Smoking Clinic and see if our support can help them quit the habit once and for all."

The Foundation's Stop Smoking programme is funded by Public Health Haringey under the banner of Public Health England's national One You campaign, which supports people to make changes towards a longer and happier life.

Clinics are currently running on Mondays at Coombes Croft Library, 2pm – 5pm and Thursdays at Café Life, 22 Moorfield Road, N17, 2pm – 5.30pm.

Samuel Shashoua looks for an opening against APOEL

EURO SHOCK AS LADS SLIP UP IN CYPRUS

All the latest news from our Academy, as we challenge in three different competitions.

Our Under-19s were somehow kept at bay by their APOEL counterparts as we fell to a 1-0 defeat in our second UEFA Youth League fixture in Nicosia recently.

Despite dominating from start to finish, we couldn't carve out enough chances and, for all the possession we had, APOEL simply refused to buckle under the pressure.

The early stages saw Keanan Bennetts whistle a shot wide from 20 yards before the home team took the lead with a moment of offensive quality. Centre-half Japhet Tanganga was penalised for a push on Sergej Grubac on the edge of the box and Constantinos Karayiannis curled the free-kick over the wall and in, despite the best efforts of Jonathan De Bie.

We had two chances to level before the interval – Jaden Brown's strike looked to have 'goal' written all over it but Bennetts couldn't get out of the way and, after De Bie did well to hold onto Anastasios Okkaridis' low drive, Kazaiah Sterling forced a routine save out of Antreas Paraskevas on the stroke of half-time.

The second period was almost completely one-way traffic as we totally controlled the game, APOEL sitting deep and inviting us to break them down, something we struggled to do.

No matter how many times we threatened, either an APOEL boot was in the way or goalkeeper Paraskevas dealt with the danger. Tanganga headed over the only time Paraskevas failed to deal with a corner, Bennetts drilled inches wide, Jack Roles had a shot blocked, TJ Eyoma headed wide and Reo Griffiths could only poke tamely at goal. In between, Sterling looked to have had his legs swept away in the box but penalty appeals were waved away – along with our hopes of a share of the spoils.

"We didn't have enough quality at times to really pierce them open, then they got a goal and hung on for dear life but in saying that, I still don't think we did enough," said coach Scott Parker.

"We dominated the game but we weren't clinical enough. To be fair, they packed out their box and it was difficult for us to break them down but that's what you're going to come up against in these types of games. The biggest thing for the boys is they need to learn from it. They need to realise that it's about habits and details, that if you keep doing the right things in training, it puts you in a better place when that chance comes along in a match."

"IF YOU KEEP DOING THE RIGHT THINGS IN TRAINING, IT PUTS YOU IN A BETTER PLACE IN A MATCH"

Our Under-18s succumbed to a 1-0 league defeat to Aston Villa at the Training Centre last month.

Colin Otudayo grabbed the decisive goal against the run of play in the 21st minute, but we couldn't turn our dominance of the play into anything meaningful.

In the second half in particular, we really imposed ourselves on a powerful Villa side with Dilan Markanday firing off target from 20 yards while Jamie Bowden blasted over following a cut-back from Reo Griffiths.

Jonathan De Bie then saved from Otudayo but we had a big chance to draw level as Armando Shashoua played in Griffiths down the left side of the area, but his fierce drive was tipped onto his near post by Villa goalkeeper

Mani Idem. The visitors could have doubled their advantage on 57 minutes when Bowden challenged Mason Birch from behind and a penalty was awarded but, after dusting himself down, the same player saw his effort saved low down by De Bie.

Paris Maghoma went close for us with a deft first-time shot from just inside the area as we tried to push forward, albeit without creating many clear-cut opportunities. De Bie leapt down low to make another brilliant save from Dimitri Sea, but there was to be no way back for us.

"We dominated possession and territory to a point but unfortunately, we didn't dominate the final third and made a lot of poor decisions in and around Villa's penalty area," said assistant coach, Matt Wells.

"If we could have attacked with a little bit more urgency we would have had less defenders to beat and a little bit more space.

"Although we improved in the second half, unfortunately the final pass just wasn't quite good enough on the day to get the goal."

"ALTHOUGH WE IMPROVED IN THE SECOND HALF, THE FINAL PASS JUST WASN'T QUITE GOOD ENOUGH"

An early brace from Dilan Markanday ensured our youngsters made a winning start to the new Under-18 Premier League Cup at Leicester City.

We were on the front foot straight away and after Phoenix Patterson hit the post inside two minutes, Markanday was there to fire us ahead.

It was 2-0 just 10 minutes later as Patterson again got a shot away, this time goalkeeper Jakub Stolarczyk was in the way of it but Markanday once more tucked away the rebound.

Leicester found a way back into the game on 68 minutes when full-back Matt Lock was penalised for a challenge on Khanya Leshabela and the same player scored the resulting penalty.

Rodel Richards tested Stolarczyk at the other end on 81 minutes, while Markanday might have had his hat-trick when Maurizio Pochettino played him through on the break, but the Foxes keeper spread himself well to block.

Leicester pushed us back late on and after De Bie saved from Tyrese Shade, Morgan Brown saw his header hit the post three minutes from time. Thankfully, though, we managed to see out the win.

RESCUED BY LATE LEVELLER

Well-struck effort from substitute Bennetts averts defeat to visting Swans

A fine strike from Keanan Bennetts saw us come back from a goal down for the second time in the game to take a point following a tough test against Swansea City at Stevenage recently.

Both sides saw opportunities cleared off the line in the first half, Christian Maghoma hooking away Swansea frontman Ollie McBurnie's header, which was going in, before McBurnie was his side's saviour at the other end, scrambling clear after Cian Harries had headed Joe Pritchard's corner towards his own goal.

The opening goal came seven minutes into the second half as a Swansea corner deflected in off Japhet Tanganga and the visitors enjoyed a good spell after taking the lead. But we levelled it up five minutes later when Jaden Brown's ball down the left flank sent Sterling away, he kept his composure to side-step a challenge from Harries and slot under goalkeeper Gregor Zabret.

Swansea regained the lead on 76 minutes when Adam King looped the ball in from the left and McBurnie produced a fine first touch to keep the ball away from Brown before drilling low into the corner.

Marcus Edwards was dangerous on the ball and drilled over the top from the edge of the area a couple of times late in the game, but it was Bennetts who stepped up with a moment of brilliance nine minutes from time, advancing in from the left side of the box and curling into the far corner with his right foot.

It looked set to end all square as we approached the final seconds of stoppage time, but we had a late scare when McBurnie glanced goalwards from six yards. Whiteman, though, was instinctively down low to his left to claw it out before pouncing on the loose ball with substitute Jordan Garrick lurking.

"They played a diamond in midfield and we found it difficult to adjust at times and to deal with their shape, but in terms of us, I didn't think we played as well as we have done," said coach Wayne Burnett.

"We didn't get after the ball as aggressively as we have done and I just felt that we didn't get into our groove quickly enough. But the good thing is we haven't been beaten. We know we can play better than that and we have done in previous weeks."

MORE MERSEY MISERY AS LADS HIT FOR FOUR

Youngsters show fight with first-half comeback but lapses in concentration prove costly

Christian Maghoma levels the scores with a sumptuous strike

It was a disappointing night all round at Anfield recently as our Under-23s slipped to defeat against a strong Liverpool side, just 12 days after losing to their neighbours Everton on Merseyside.

The Reds, who included ex-Hull City loanee Lazar Markovic and Wales international Ben Woodburn, came into the game with a 100 per cent record in the competition and immediately set about maintaining that standard.

We made a disastrous start and fell behind inside 30 seconds as the ball was played back to Christian Maghoma, he failed to clear with his head and Harry Wilson stooped to angle a header over goalkeeper Brandon Austin and under the crossbar.

The home side controlled proceedings in the early stages and found a couple of openings with long balls forwards between the centre-halves. From the first one, Rhian Brewster saw his first shot palmed out by Austin before inexplicably missing the target on the rebound. But three minutes later it was 2-0 as Lloyd Jones clipped a ball forward from the back, Markovic brought it down and laid off for Wilson to strike low into the bottom corner.

A lifeline came our way on 20 minutes when Kazaiah Sterling went to ground under Jones' challenge in Liverpool's area and the referee pointed to the spot. Up stepped Marcus Edwards to blast home the penalty.

The Reds responded well and Luke

Jaden Brown gives chase as Lazar Markovic presses

Amos had to slide in from behind to ensure Wilson's shot was steered over the top, while Brewster rattled the bar from 16 yards. But after 35 minutes, Keanan Bennetts tricked his way between two defenders on the left with the ball breaking for centre-half Maghoma to produce a finish most strikers would be proud of, curling beautifully into the top corner.

We nearly grabbed the lead when Sterling's shot was blocked by goalkeeper Caoimhin Kelleher, however it was Liverpool who went into the interval in front, Wilson completing his treble on 44 minutes when he exchanged passes with Woodburn in the box and curled beyond Austin.

The Reds dealt us another big blow with a fourth goal shortly after half-time. Austin made a good low reaction save from Woodburn from the right side of the area but he was caught off his line when a long ball was played forward on 50 minutes and Brewster guided it over him into the empty net.

Wayne Burnett

We kept plugging away and could have pulled one back on 79 minutes, only for Sterling to fire straight at Kelleher with just the keeper to beat.

"We gave Liverpool some very good opportunities through our lack of concentration at times," said coach Wayne Burnett. "When you give any team two goals, it's very difficult to come back but we showed excellent character, came back to 2-2 and started to get a foothold in the game.

"We conceded just before half-time, though, and that was disappointing. Some of our play was a little naive and we have to learn from that. I expected us to make better decisions on and off the ball, in the first half we didn't and we got punished for it."

LADIES UP AND RUNNING WITH HISTORIC VICTORY

Spurs Ladies claimed a milestone first win in the Women's Super League as Aston Villa were toppled 2-0 in WSL 2 a fortnight ago.

The team responded perfectly to their narrow 2-1 defeat at Durham the previous week as goals from Bianca Baptiste and Coral-Jade Haines secured the points at Cheshunt FC.

Karen Hills insisted the players would learn quickly after that opening day loss, and that proved the case in their first-ever home match at this level.

"The players weren't down after Durham, and as I said last week, if anything, that proved they can compete at this level," said Karen.

"You could sense they just wanted to get out there again and we played really well against Villa. It was a tough game, Villa had a spell in the second half where we had to defend well, but we came through it and went on to add our second goal.

"I can only speak positively about the team. We knew we had it in us and we've gone out there and proved it. Villa are a good side and I'm sure they will be right up there, but that's two good teams we've faced now and we've more than matched both of them.

"It was great to see over 400 fans at the game. That support gives everyone a lift. We were unbeaten at home last season and we've started in the same way. We want to maintain that at home for as long as possible."

There was a real determination within the squad to bounce back immediately after that defeat to Durham and, in truth, we could have won by a bigger margin against Aston Villa.

We were on the front foot from the first whistle, Baptiste breaking through inside 30 seconds and forcing goalkeeper Sian Rogers to boot clear, with Wendy Martin firing the rebound over the bar.

Baptiste had the ball in the net shortly after having been put clear by Haines but her effort was ruled out for offside, but the opening goal did arrive on 19 minutes when Baptiste's corner towards the near post found its way past Rogers and dropped into the far corner.

We were well on top during the first half and carved out a number of chances without extending our lead, with Baptiste beating Rogers just before the interval, only for her effort to drift just wide.

The visitors were far more threatening in the second period and it needed a great save from Toni-Anne Wayne to prevent Beth Merrick from levelling the scores, before the Villa player struck a 30-yard curler which hit the post.

But we wrapped up the points in the 74th-minute when Lauren Pickett paced down the right and played a pass inside towards Haines, who picked her spot and struck home for 2-0.

Spurs: Wayne, Leon (Vio 89), Schillaci, Hector, Neville, Green, Mclean, Haines, Martin, Baptiste (Pickett 68), Wiltshire (O'Leary 84). Substitutes (not used): Morgan, Mackenzie.

Our first-ever game in the FA Women's Super League 2 ended in disappointment against Durham, but there were plenty of positives to take from an encouraging performance at this level.

"WE WERE UNBEATEN AT HOME LAST SEASON AND WE'VE STARTED IN THE SAME WAY. WE WANT TO MAINTAIN THAT FOR AS LONG AS POSSIBLE"

The Ladies' valiant pressure at New Ferens Park wasn't enough to salvage a point as we slipped to a 2-1 defeat.

Both sides created plenty of goalscoring opportunities but it wasn't until the 44th-minute that the opening goal arrived, and when it did, it was the hosts who grabbed it. Beth Hepple picked up the ball in a central position and drilled home past Wayne from the edge of the area, but we wasted no time drawing level.

Just 60 seconds later, Baptiste broke clear down the left, cut inside and placed an accurate shot past Helen Alderson to make it 1-1. However, in a frantic closing to the half, Durham restored their lead in stoppage time before the interval when Emily Roberts found Nicki Gears and she beat Wayne with a curling effort.

After the break, Martin's header was disallowed for offside while Renee Hector and Jenna Schillaci combined to clear Abigail Cottam's volley off the line. And in the closing stages, Hanna Mackenzie's 30-yard effort was palmed over before Ashleigh Neville fired our final chance over the crossbar.

Spurs: Wayne, Leon (Mackenzie 76), Hector, Schillaci, Neville, Green, Mclean, Haines (Pickett 66), Wiltshire, Baptiste, Martin (Humes 66). Substitute (not used): Morgan.

MINNEAPOLIS SPURS

Minneapolis Spurs have been busy with their activities in their local area. Inspired after meeting with Spurs fans from supporter groups all over the world during their trip to Nashville this summer, they came home determined to be more than just a bunch of fans who gather to watch their favourite club and resolved to make a difference in their community.

With this in mind, they have recently completed their first outreach event, where they successfully bagged and delivered 200 craft packs to local charity Ronald McDonald House (Upper Midwest). The organisation provides a comfortable and caring home-away-from-home that supports keeping families together and reduces stress during a child's serious illness and Minneapolis Spurs were delighted to be able to help their cause.

Well done to all at the group, including their community outreach co-chair, Jeremie Bellenir.

THE HOTSPUR TROPHY

Sponsored by GKR SCAFFOLDING LIMITED

The Tottenham Hotspur Autumn Golf Day took place last Monday at The Grove as teams took part in a Stableford competition for the Hotspur Trophy, sponsored by GKR Scaffolding and we thank them for their valued support. As usual, many of our Spurs Legends took part in the competition joining the four-ball teams. We also wish to thank Glyn Hopkin for sponsoring the Hole in One competition.

The winning team were in fact, the competition sponsors, GKR Scaffolding with a score of 95 points, and they are pictured receiving the Hotspur Trophy from the Club's Director of Hospitality, Andy O'Sullivan. From left to right: Legend Graham Roberts, Andy O'Sullivan, Lee Rowswell, Mick Goodwin and Darrell Deanne (in front).

The runners up with 94 points were Glenn Easlea, Nick Einhorn, Paul Coyte and Ossie Ardiles.

Finishing in third position with 86 points were Andy O'Sullivan, Jon Sellins, Daniel Clark and Chris Bryant.

In the individual competitions, pictured with Andy O'Sullivan receiving their prizes are:

Best Individual Score (40 points): Mick Goodwin

Best Legends Score (36 points): Micky Hazard

"The most naturally gifted footballer of his generation" is one of those overused clichés, but in the case of Glenn Hoddle it is an understatement. He was not just the most naturally gifted player of his generation, he was of many generations.

Living in Harlow, he was noted by Spurs as a schoolboy but it was only after playing in a local junior cup final in front of Martin Chivers that he was invited to train with us. Chivers and Ray Evans had gone along to present the trophies and Chivers mentioned Hoddle's name when he got back to White Hart Lane. Only 11, he was outstanding even then and so he continued as he moved up through the ranks here, the club signing him to apprentice and professional forms at the first opportunity.

Hoddle made his league debut as an 18-year-old substitute in August, 1975, under the management of Terry Neill. It was not until the following February that Hoddle started his first league game and he announced his arrival with the type of goal against Stoke City he was to become renowned for, beating England 'keeper Peter Shilton with a perfectly-placed long-range volley.

It was the first of 110 goals that Glenn would score in our colours and among the 17 players that have reached the century mark for us, he is the only midfielder in the group, a testament to his undoubted quality.

Neill soon departed to be replaced by Keith Burkinshaw, who immediately showed his confidence in Hoddle's talents by installing him as the midfield playmaker, the player around whom everything would revolve. It was a heavy burden for one so young and when we were relegated in 1977, it might have appeared one too demanding but Hoddle needed time to develop and Burkinshaw time to assemble the right players around the midfielder.

Tall, slim, elegant, perfectly balanced and with a bearing that just screamed confidence, Hoddle simply oozed class. There seemed nothing he could not do with a football whether it was playing quick-fire one-twos, threading it through a massed defence, juggling it in the tightest of corners, bending it round a defensive wall, chipping it into a few feet of space or dropping it inch perfect into the stride of a colleague.

And what goals he scored too. If we were compiling a list of our top 20 goals of all time, Hoddle would have several entrants – his edge of the box volley after a slick one-two with Ossie Ardiles against Manchester United in August, 1979; his first-time sledgehammer against Nottingham Forest two months later when Gerry Armstrong and Chris Jones nodded on a Milija Aleksic punt; his delicate inch perfect lob from the angle of the area at Watford in September, 1983.

His parting gift to our supporters would also feature, as he feinted and shimmied his way through the Oxford United defence in April, 1987, to score what would prove to be his final goal in our colours. He had become a worthy member of the '100 Club' the previous season when he netted in our 5-0 FA Cup fourth round replay against Notts County at the Lane.

Hoddle made his last appearance for us in the 1987 FA Cup final. Defeat was not the way he wanted to leave but he had given the fans good times with the FA Cup in 1981 and 1982, the League Cup final in 1982 and, although he missed the final because of injury, the UEFA Cup in 1984.

He left us to join Monaco where his vision and skills found a new adoring audience to appreciate his artistry, before embarking on a managerial career with Swindon Town, Chelsea, England, Southampton and then a return home to Spurs.

CLUB CELEBRATES DIWALI IN SUPPORT OF KICK IT OUT

This afternoon's game with Bournemouth will kick off a range of activities celebrating the annual cultural festival of Diwali, engagement with the South Asian community around Wembley and promoting inclusion for fans of all backgrounds.

Our work is being recognised by Kick It Out, football's equality and inclusion campaign challenging discrimination and encouraging diversity within the game, and our players will warm up in campaign t-shirts before the match.

This season has seen the birth of Punjabi Spurs, an Official Supporters' Club based in the UK that aims to celebrate diversity within our global fan base and welcome fans from all backgrounds.

Punjabi Spurs is being backed by Kick It Out and the Football Supporters' Federation's 'Fans for Diversity' fund and will be delivering a coaching clinic for young people in the Punjab region of India next year with the help of Spurs legends Clive Allen and Micky Hazard.

Its chairman, Josh Sandhu, will speak during the half-time interval today, followed by a Spurs-themed Diwali performance from VP Bhangra – a renowned Punjabi dance troupe that has performed at events including the closing ceremony of the London 2012 Olympics.

Our celebrations will then continue next week with Ledley King a special guest at the Gurdwara Sri Guru Singh Sabha temple's Diwali event in Southall on Thursday, October 19.

KICK IT OUT
TACKLING RACISM & DISCRIMINATION

The Club has also sponsored Wembley's festive lights this year that will be switched on the following day to mark Diwali and will remain on throughout the Christmas period until the New Year.

Meanwhile, the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation will next month launch a ground-breaking health and inclusion programme in partnership with BAPS Shri Swaminarayan Mandir, commonly known as Neasden Temple, and its community groups.

The programme will provide activities and awareness, including health checks and a 10-week weight management course, to inspire young people and adults that visit the temple to lead healthier lifestyles.

It's in response to research showing that people from South Asian communities living in the UK are nearly twice as likely to develop diabetes compared with people from white European backgrounds, with conditions such as coronary heart disease also more prevalent.

LENNY ROGERS, aged five, who is watching us play for the first time today and is at Wembley with his dad Louis.

MOHAMMAD AZIM ZAINUDDIN, who has travelled over from Kuala Lumpur in Malaysia with three friends – Adli Edzuan, Dehl Affie and Aiman Asyraf – for their first Spurs game.

BILL HALL, who is at today's game 60 years after watching his first Spurs match on October 12, 1957, when we beat Arsenal 3-1. Although now retired and living in Yorkshire, he still gets to a few games each season and is here this afternoon with his wife Liz and grandson Dante.

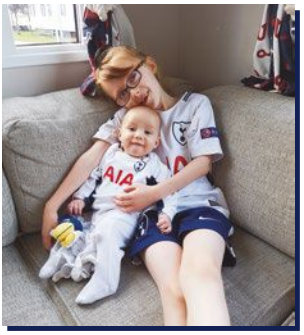
BARRY MORTEN, a lifelong Spurs fan who is here today with nephew Kenneth Morten, for his first game at Wembley.

GALLERY

Here is season ticket holder JACK WELLS, aged eight, with his mum Krystle at our game against Burnley earlier this season, which was her first football match.

BABY SPURS

This is Freya Pound-Piper, who was born on May 19 to proud parents Lee and Bronwyn and big sister Imogen. Imogen is at Wembley today with her dad for her first-ever Spurs game.



OBITUARY

We were sorry to hear of the passing of loyal Spurs supporter Mark Keppel, who died suddenly at the end of August while on holiday abroad with his family. We would like to extend our condolences to his family and friends at this sad time.

BIRTHDAYS

Best wishes to the following Spurs fans:

LEWIS KINGSTON, who is celebrating his 50th birthday.

One Hotspur KICKER WILLIAM MEEHAN, who is here today with his dad, granddad, uncles and team-mates from Castle Coombe Colts Under-9s.

LAUREN BENNALLICK, who is celebrating her 26th birthday today and is pictured watching the last-ever North London Derby at White Hart Lane on her wedding day!

MATTHEW CROWTHER, who was 12 on October 4 and has travelled down from Yorkshire to watch today's game with his brother Tom and dad Nick as a birthday surprise.

DILAN KUMAR, who celebrates his 38th birthday tomorrow.

Season ticket holder MARC BERNARD, who celebrated his 40th birthday on Wednesday.

ANNABEL VINTON-HORSLEY, who turned 22 on Thursday.

SAMMY SICE, who is here today to celebrate her 21st birthday, accompanied by her boyfriend Andrew Love and season ticket holder uncle David.

DERMOT MACLENNAN (pictured), who celebrates his birthday on Tuesday and GLENN MACLENNAN, whose birthday is on Monday.

PAUL WARNER, who is celebrating his 57th birthday today and is at the game with his daughter Connie May.

DOMINIC BARNDEN, who turns 32 today and is watching us at Wembley for the first time this afternoon.

SIMON POPE, who is watching Spurs for the first time today and making his debut at Wembley, celebrates his 40th birthday next week.

Season ticket holder LUCAS ROBERTS, who recently celebrated his 12th birthday, and KACEY ROBERTS, who will be 10 on October 21.

Lifelong fan and season ticket holder BRUCE WALLACE, from Buntingford, who celebrated his 65th birthday on October 1.

CHRISTOPHER SMITH-BENNETT, a season ticket holder who turned 30 on October 7.

QUESTION TIME

A quick quiz to keep you busy during half-time ...how many questions can you get right on our previous matches and club connections with today's opponents.

QUICK SIX

1. Our former Academy graduate Shwan Jalal played over 150 times for Bournemouth between 2008-14, but in which position?

2. Bournemouth full-back Adam Smith came through our ranks and made one appearance in the Premier League for us, in May, 2012. Who against?

3. How many consecutive league games did Jermain Defoe score in for Bournemouth, while on loan from West Ham United in 2000-01?

4. Who scored for us in our 3-1 FA Cup defeat to Bournemouth, then of Division Three (South), in February, 1957?

5. Winger Richard Cooke played and scored for both clubs in the Football League, but for which current League Two side did he also score, during a two-year spell with them between 1989-91?

6. Harry Redknapp managed both Bournemouth and ourselves, but who were our opponents for his first game as our manager, on October 26, 2008?

MISSING MEN...

Here's our starting line-up from the first time we played Bournemouth at home in the Premier League, on March 20, 2016, but who is missing?

CAREER PATH

Can you name the player who has featured for both of today's clubs and also played for Liverpool and Southampton?

WHO SCORED?

Name our four goalscorers who netted in our 4-0 win in this fixture at the Lane last season.

GOALS GALORE...

How many goals has Harry Kane scored against the Cherries since their promotion to the Premier League in 2015?

FROM THE ARCHIVES

Action from our 5-1 win at Bournemouth in October, 2015, but who are the two players pictured?

ANSWERS - Missing Men: Wimmer, Lamela. Career Path: Jamie Redknapp. Who Scored: Mousa Dembele, Heung-Min Son, Harry Kane, Vincent Janssen. Goals Galore: Six. From The Archives: Clinton Njie and Simon Francis. Quick Six: 1. Goalkeeper; 2. Fulham; 3. Ten matches; 4. Terry Medwin; 5. Luton Town 6. Bolton Wanderers.

JUAN FOYTH

Our new signing from Argentine side Estudiantes made his first Spurs appearance in our Carabao Cup tie against Barnsley last month. The 19-year-old played the full 90 minutes in our 1-0 win here.

MOUSSA SISSOKO

Having been in good form this season, Moussa Sissoko opened his goalscoring account for us at Huddersfield Town last time out. The French international netted our last goal in the 4-0 win on his 44th appearance.

WEMBLEY MEMORIES

Each matchday, Andy Greeves speaks to a former Spurs player about their memories of Wembley Stadium during their career. This afternoon, our ex-striker Jermain Defoe – now of AFC Bournemouth – looks back on some of his performances for England

By his own admission, Wembley Stadium is a venue at which Jermain Defoe has experienced both "ups and down" during his playing career. His first-ever appearance here came as a half-time substitute in England's 3-2 defeat to Croatia on November 21, 2007 – a result that cost the Three Lions a place at UEFA Euro 2008.

Since then though, he has been involved in nine England victories and one further defeat in his 15 international appearances here, scoring seven goals in the process, including a hat-trick against Bulgaria in a 4-0 win on September 3, 2010.

"Thankfully, most of my Wembley memories are good ones," says Jermain, who made a total of 352 appearances in his two spells with us between 2004 and 2014, scoring 137 times. "One of my big highlights in an England shirt would be that game against Bulgaria here.

"It was our first competitive game after the 2010 World Cup and I think the manager wanted to see a reaction from us. I felt we probably owed something to the fans and we ended up delivering the perfect performance. I was obviously delighted to score a hat-trick… funnily enough all my goals were scored with my left-foot that night. I can also remember Wayne Rooney being unbelievable in that game and I think he assisted for three of the four goals we scored."

Prior to his hat-trick against Bulgaria, Defoe's first goal at the national stadium came in a 5-1 victory over Kazakhstan on October 11, 2008. Introduced as an 87th minute substitute, the striker found the back of the net just three minutes later. He also came off the Wembley bench to score twice for the Three Lions in their 6-0 victory over Andorra on June 10, 2009, and to get the winner in a 2-1 triumph against Slovenia on September 5 that year.

"It's always a great feeling playing for England and scoring," smiles Defoe. "There is something extra-special about doing it at Wembley Stadium. It's the place you dream of scoring at when you're a kid and to do it for real is unbelievable."

Jermain claims the match ball after his hat-trick against Bulgaria in 2012

Celebrating against Bulgaria

For both personal and professional reasons, March 13 this year is a date Defoe will never forget. That evening, the Beckton-born striker made his first appearance for England since coming on as a substitute for the Three Lions against Chile back on November 15, 2013. Starting the match against Lithuania in front of a crowd of 77,690 here at Wembley Stadium, Defoe walked onto the pitch with youngster Bradley Lowery, who was a mascot for the match. Tragically, Bradley – who Defoe describes as his "best friend" – died a few months later, aged just six, after a brave battle with a rare form of cancer called neuroblastoma.

"It was already such a special day, having walked out onto the pitch with Bradley," recalls Jermain, on the 2-0 victory that saw him open the scoring. "To be included in the England squad again was massive for me and my family. Getting back in the fold was always in the back of my mind, even in the years I wasn't selected. I remember getting the phone call from Gareth (Southgate), to tell me he wanted me in the squad for the Germany and Lithuania matches and I was delighted.

"It was incredible to start against Lithuania and then to score. It was Mothers' Day and my family were watching from a hospitality box. In terms of everything that happened, it was the perfect day for me and one I'll never forget."

Defoe's memories when it comes to club football at Wembley are less fond, having been involved in two of our FA Cup semi-final defeats here against Portsmouth on April 11, 2010, and Chelsea on April 15 two years later. He also featured in our Wembley Cup matches in July, 2009, playing the full 90 minutes against Barcelona and coming on as a second-half substitute versus Celtic.

Subject to injuries and selection, this afternoon will see the England marksman make another Wembley Stadium appearance against a club he holds dear to his heart.

"I loved my time at Tottenham and everyone knows what the club means to me," comments Jermain, who stands as our top all-time goal scorer in European competition, having managed 23 goals in 35 continental appearances for us. "I was at Tottenham longer than at any other football club and I was so lucky to have such a special relationship with the fans.

"In between my two spells at the Lane, I remember scoring a penalty for Portsmouth in a match against Spurs at Fratton Park and the Spurs fans sang my name even then. Then I remember getting a call telling me about how Spurs supporters were chanting my name in another match even though I was still a Portsmouth player. It was around that time, I said to my agent, 'I need to go back (to Spurs) … do whatever you can to make it happen'."

Jermain scores against Getafe in October, 2007

Speaking of returns, Defoe re-signed for AFC Bournemouth this summer – the club where he played his first league matches as a professional footballer on loan from West Ham United in 2000-01.

"It's great being back in Bournemouth – both at the club and living in the area," he says. "I had a number of options during the summer as to where I could go, but as soon as I heard from Bournemouth, I knew that's what I wanted. That will always be the place it all started for me in terms of playing league football.

"It's such a nice part of the country to live too… there's a great lifestyle down here. When the football's going well, every box is ticked for me in Bournemouth."
